Last week in 'Skills for Growing'

(Primary School Social Emotional Learning Program)

SPOTLIGHT on // YEAR 4!

Self-motivation // Different people want to do well for different reasons. Some motivations come from a person's personal values (intrinsic), while others come from external expectations (extrinsic). Both encourage people to do their best. Last week Year 4 began exploring these different sources of motivation & how they can use them to do their best.

Student Reflection // "Extrinsic is if you do something you get something back. Intrinsic is when you do it for yourself. When you're older you can't have extrinsic all the time, you have to be more intrinsic." Ezekiel Behan

At Home // Have your child ask family members about what motivates them to do well at their jobs, at school, at home or with any other responsibilities they have. Help your child identify which motivations are extrinsic & which are intrinsic. There may be a common theme of motivation in your family!

Bless You CCS Family
